I. Conservation of art in public places

Karin Hermerén

The paper “Conservation of art in public places” was presented at the ICOM Committee for Conservation 15th Triennial Conference, Diversity in Heritage Conservation, New Delhi, India, 22–26 September 2008.

Erratum

Page 470 (i.e. p. 367 in this text). “They can also be bought with the legally stipulated… buildings. A recommendation passed in…”. The so called one percent rule is not a law, but a recommendation and stipulates that one percent of the total cost for constructions, conversions and extensions shall be devoted to artistic decoration.