

Africa & Asia

3 (2003)

ASIA

YASUKO NAGANO-MADSEN & NAOKAZU HASHIO

Tonal and durational analyses of mono-moraic nouns in the Monobe-Kochi dialect of Japanese 3-19

AFRICA

JOHN G. KIANGO

Syntactic classification of Swahili verbal expressions 20-40

MALIN PETZELL

Swedish contributions to African linguistics: a focus on Bantu languages 41-52

HELENE FATIMA IDRIS

Swedish contributions to African linguistics: a focus on Nilo-Saharan and Afro-Asiatic languages 53-63

JOHN G. KIANGO

Syntactic analysis of Swahili verbal expressions 64-90

CHRISTINA THORNELL

Data on the verb phrase in Mpiemo 91-122

KARSTEN LEGÈRE

Plant names from North Zanzibar 123-146

JOUNI FILIP MAHO

Towards a bibliography for Mozambican languages 147-154

ABDULAZIZ Y. LODHI

Aspiration in Swahili adjectives and verbs 155-160

JOUNI FILIP MAHO

Remarks on a few "polyplural" classes in Bantu 161-184

Africa & Asia: Göteborg working papers on Asian and African languages and literatures

ISSN 1650-2019

© Authors and the Dept of Oriental and African Languages, Göteborg University

All rights reserved.

The series Africa & Asia: Göteborg working papers on Asian and African languages and literatures is published by the Department of Oriental and African Languages, Göteborg University. The series aims to cover any aspect relevant to the study of Asian and African languages and literatures. Chiefly, the series reflects ongoing research activities at the Dept of Oriental and African Languages, Göteborg University. Thus it is primarily meant for disseminating works of the department staff. It is open also for guest researchers attached to the department. Invited guest lecturers and active participants in conferences organised by the department may also submit their read papers.

Africa & Asia appears at least once a year, and is distributed on an exchange basis.

Further information can be obtained from:

Editor, Africa & Asia
Dept of Oriental and African Languages
Göteborg University
Box 200
SE-40530 Göteborg
Sweden

Email aa@oriental.gu.se

Web www.orient.gu.se/aa

Originally published 2003.